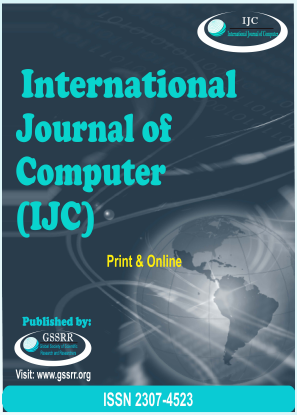
Scope of the Journal

ISSN: 2307-4523 (Print & Online)



The computer science, software engineering, information technology, computer engineering, and computer information systems have experienced rapid changes over the past few decades. The challenges for researchers from all around the world needs to be faced. IJC offers an international forum for those researchers.

Contents:

IJC publishes original papers, review papers, technical reports, case studies, management reports, book reviews, notes and short communications. Special issues devoted to important topics in computer science, software engineering, information technology, computer engineering, and computer information systems will occasionally be published.

Topics covered include (but not limited to):

Ad Hoc & Sensor Network, pervasive communications, Adaptive, autonomic and context-aware computing, Agents, Autonomic and self-managing middleware, B2B and B2C management, Bio-Informatics, Bio-Medicine , and Biotechnology, Cloud Computing, Collaborative applications, pervasive computing, Computational intelligence, Computer Architecture and Embedded Systems, Computer Vision, Computer information systems, Computing Ethics, Cryptography, Data Base Management, Data Mining, Data Retrieval, Digital Economy and Digital Divide, Digital signal processing theory, Sensor Networks, E-Business, E-Commerce, E-Government, Green computing, Fuzzy algorithms and logics, GPS, Management Information Technology, Human Computer Interaction (HCI), Image analysis and, processing, Information and data security, Information processing, Information Technology and their application, intelligent networks, Internet Technologies, Infrastructure, Services & Applications wireless technologies, Knowledge management, Nano technology, Natural Language Processing, Neural Networks, Optical Networks, Pattern Recognition, Real-time information systems, Real-time multimedia signal processing, Security, Privacy and Trust, Smart home applications, Social Networks and Online Communities, Software Engineering, Supply Chain Management, Technology in Education, Ubiquitous and pervasive applications, User interfaces and interaction models, Virtual reality, etc.

The IJC is published and hosted by the Global Society of Scientific Research and Researchers (GSSRR). Address: Khlda - Wasfi Al Tall Street, info@gssrr.org, Amman, Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan
